BUSINESS SCHOOL

Programme structure

First year: Master 1

Advanced Business Management and Global Business Environment

Students will study Advanced Business Management in the first semester. Courses are taught in English and help the student develop a deeper understanding of business management principles.

Students have two options in the second semester:

- ▶ study Global Business Environment so as to develop their understanding of international business and the capacity to manage in a global context.
- ▶ prepare the CFA level I certification on the Paris campus

Gap year

An optional work placement is possible either in M1 or in M2 as shown in the diagram page 3 (two placements of six months maximum). It enables students to identify their career plans, gain insight into the workings of a company and thus choose their final-year specialisation.

Second year: Master 2

Specialisation and career start

During their final year, students have the opportunity to fine tune their profile and acquire specialised competencies. The chosen specialisation and post-study work experience placement are designed to help the student successfully join the business world. Final-year courses are taught in English except for dual track specialised programmes taught at SKEMA.

A double degree (Master in Management + MSc) is awarded to students provided they do both semesters of their second year in the same specialisation (conditions apply).

Options available in Master 2 include:

- ▶ Studying within an MSc for the chosen specialisation (over 22 specialisations)
- ▶ Studying on one of our international campuses
- ▶ An academic exchange or double degree with one of our foreign partners
- ▶ An international work placement
- ▶ Alternating work and study for French speakers and under specific conditions.

“SKEMA is for me both a choice of a powerful group and a dynamic environment.

Due to globalisation, the educational landscape is changing rapidly, so it is important to take a strong position within it. SKEMA has formed a multi-campus entity that channels forces and strong budgets throughout five continents.

I appreciate how every single part of the programme is reinforced by practical application. In parallel with the practical application of academic subjects is the teamwork and professionalism we find being involved in SKEMA's rich and diversified societies and clubs. These student groups also hugely contribute to the networking opportunities that will stand us in good stead for life.

With a huge proportion of international students, SKEMA boasts a multi-cultural environment and continues in acquiring accreditations which ensure career relevance. This context gives me the best possible opportunities to create my own future.”

“SKEMA’s Master in Management is a truly excellent experience with flexible study options allowing one to pick a specialisation as well as a campus of choice.

The diversity of our class along with the world-class faculty helps in encouraging our creativity and reasoning to build a wonderful community of leaders globally.

We are taught innovation comes from when you have the freedom to make mistakes, which I experienced first-hand working as a social media manager for my summer internship.”

Shraddha Shivraj
Master in Management

“During my time in SKEMA, what impressed me the most was the availability and attention of the administrative staff and professors and all the help they provided.

SKEMA allowed me to create a professional network that allowed me to get interesting internships in large companies (Natixis, BNP Paribas, Veolia).

With the career days and fairs on each of its different campuses, I was able to obtain and sign a permanent job contract before the end of my studies.”
